

To Whom it May Concern:

I am pleased to have the opportunity to provide the strongest of references for Bob Winget of Toolbox Conference Management. Birth To Three contracted Mr. Winget to help us organize our first state-wide conference, the Oregon Parenting Education and Support Conference '08. His thoughtful leadership helped our planning committee anticipate requirements and develop resources that led to a very successful, highly regarded conference experience for our attendees, staff, and sponsors. In fact feedback from participants indicated that 99.1% of conference attendees would recommend it to their peers. In addition, Bob Winget developed web-based systems to promote the conference and share information about the conference program. He published the conference program and proceedings online and developed online systems for submitting presentation proposals and conference registration. These systems facilitated decision-making and supported conference registration fee management.

We are planning our next conference and look forward to Mr. Winget's leadership as part of our team. We highly recommend him and would be happy to provide additional comments on his outstanding performance.

Sincerely,

Minallee Saks
